Morocco Rebels Launch Attacks Against French

RABAT, French Morocco, Oct. 2 (AP)—Full scale fighting roared to day between Moroccan rebels and the French. It followed rebel attacks on several French posts—the first major guerrilla warfare in this North African protectorate.

Rabat newspapers described the battles as the most serious fighting in years in the sparsely settled northern and eastern sections of the territory.

In what unofficial sources referred to as a vast troop movement, the French threw heavy reinforcements, tanks and planes against the guerrillas. But French officials said fighting was still going on late this afternoon at least two points.

See-Saw Fighting
So far there has been no report on the casualties.

The guerrillas launched their attacks last night against at least five French posts. At two, near the Spanish Moroccan border, they first drove out the defenders but were forced to retreat under counterattacks.

Officials here said French troops supported by tanks and planes, were fighting this afternoon in the area of Immuizer-des-Marmouchas, about 65 miles southeast of Fez.

Earlier reports said attacks were made against Immuizer-des-Marmouchas and Berkine, high in the Atlas Mountains. Some buildings were said to have been burned at Berkine.

International Road Cut

A French outpost at Bou Zineb, inside the Spanish Moroccan frontier, also is surrounded by guerrillas. The international road linking this post with French Morocco was cut by the rebels, officials said.

The scope of the clashes and their full significance was not immediately clear. Despite the reference to sizeable troop movements, French officials here declined to give any figures on the number of soldiers involved.

Sweden Loses Its Liquor Reputation

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2 (AP)—Sweden's reputation as a hard-drinking nation went overboard in one Saturday night—the first time it was put to a real test in 36 years.

The orgy of whiskey swilling forecast for the end of liquor rationing yesterday failed to come off.

Instead, the Swedes guzzled oceans of strong beer into the wee hours of Sunday morning. With the switch from hard liquor to beer drinking, the Swedes spent one of their soberest and quietest weekends since liquor rationing was clamped on the nation in 1919.

Bewildered police said "Not one single case of wife-beating by drunken husbands was reported in Stockholm. This was most unusual for a Saturday night."

"Invasion" Broken Up

BOMBAY, India, Oct. 2 (AP)—Police today broke up two attempted "peaceful invasions" of the Indian Portuguese territories of Goa and Damao.

Worried Authorities Seek Child Bitten By Rabid Fox

CATSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Somewhere a little blonde called "Nancy" faces possible death unless she receives antirabies injections quickly.

Who she is, and where she is, only her family knows.

Late today, worried authorities had no clue.

The girl, about 6 or 7, was bitten yesterday by a rabid wild fox that wandered into a picnic area ad-

Woman Killed, 10 Churchgoers Hurt By Runaway Auto

DETROIT, Oct. 2 (AP)—A widowed mother of two was killed and 10 other persons were injured today when a runaway car ploughed into a crowd of churchgoers.

Scores of persons attending morning services at Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church ran from the path of the auto, but Mrs. Leona Schuster, 36, was struck and killed. Her daughter, Leona Marlene, 4, was among the injured.

The driver, John Eder, 55, a member of the congregation, told police he had driven to the front of the church to pick up his daughter, Ingrid, 17. He was about to turn over the wheel to her, he said, when the car began to move slowly ahead.

He tried to apply the breaks but stepped on the accelerator instead. The car lunged across a sidewalk and crashed into the front steps of the church, pinning three women.

Mother Of Slain Boy Ill, Misses Rally By NAACP

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—A New York speaking engagement for the mother of a Negro boy slain in Mississippi has been called off because of the woman's illness.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, 33, a witness at the trial of two white men acquitted of murdering her son, Emmett Till, 14, is in the Hospital. The hospital reported her condition "fair" but declined to give further details. Associates said she is suffering from a severe cold and "nervous exhaustion."

Mrs. Bradley was admitted to the hospital last night, a few hours after addressing a National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People rally in Detroit.

Rayfield Mooty, Mrs. Bradley's nephew, said she had planned to fly to New York today to speak at another NAACP rally. Mrs. Cora Patton, local NAACP president, said no new date has been fixed for her New York appearance.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—A rally protesting the Emmett Till trial verdict adopted today a resolution calling on the U. S. Justice Department to investigate "the intimidation and denial of the vote to Negroes" in Tallahatchie County, Miss.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, told the rally of 3,000 persons that none of the 19,000 Negroes in Tallahatchie County, where the Till "wolf whistle" killing trial was held, was allowed to register to vote in last month's primary.

Dodger Fan, No Doubt

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—Some happy fellow—a Dodger fan, no doubt—threw coins out of a window in the Astor Hotel for half an hour tonight.

A crowd gathered in Times Square below and soon caused a traffic jam.

Dimes, quarters and half dollars rained down from a high window. Police and hotel employees looked and looked, but couldn't locate the joker.

Ex-Dictator Of Argentina At Asuncion

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Oct. 2 (AP)—Juan D. Peron, dictator of Argentina for more than 10 years, arrived here today to begin a life in exile.

The weary onetime strong man, who dislikes flying, landed at the Campo Grande Military Airport on a Paraguayan amphibian plane at 6:45 p.m. He was greeted by Paraguayan officials. Newsmen and photographers were barred from the field.

13 Days On Gunboat

The deposed President flew here from the River Plate off Buenos Aires, where he had been 13 days aboard a Paraguayan gunboat. He sought asylum on the little warship Sept. 20 after a successful military and naval revolt toppled his regime.

The flight took 5 hours, 35 minutes. The weather was bright and sunny, but prevailing headwinds slowed the trip.

With Peron on the plane were Juan Chavez, Paraguayan ambassador to Argentina, and Maj. Ignacio Cialetta, the fallen dictator's aide. The amphibian was escorted by two Argentine air force planes.

May Find Asuncion Dull

Although north Argentina is just across the Paraguay River, Asuncion is small compared with Buenos Aires and Peron is not likely to find life nearly as gay as it is in the Argentine capital.

A city of less than 114,000 population, Asuncion still retains much of the aspect it had in the 17th and 18th centuries, when it was a Spanish colonial center.

There has been no hint as to how long Peron might stay in Paraguay. Argentina's provisional government is not too happy about having him just across the river from Argentine territory for very long. There have been suggestions that he might find a haven in Spain or Switzerland.

Eight Priceless Statues Stolen

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—A brazen thief stole eight tiny silver statues from the Brooklyn Museum over the weekend. One was well over 2,000 years old and all were so rare as to be almost beyond price.

The thief broke open five sealed glass display cases sometime Saturday, almost under the noses of a guard and a stream of visitors coming in and out of the room.

The theft was not disclosed until today. Police were not called in until today, because museum officials wanted first to notify the institutions that had loaned the statues for a special exhibit.

The stolen statues were the cream of an exhibition of 30 pieces in the display cases, gathered together for an exhibit called "Sculpture in Silver from Islands of Time."

Peron's Friend Says "Pappy" Generous

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 2 (AP)—Juan Peron liked to call himself "The Man" and was generous in his gifts, according to the 16-year-old high school girl who has been linked with the love life of the fallen Argentine dictator. She called him "Pappy."

Nelida Haydee Rivas was quoted by the newspaper La Razon as saying she had known Peron, now 60, for two years. She first met him after joining a high school student organization which enjoyed the patronage of Peron. The feminine branch of the organization had its headquarters in Peron's suburban Petros residence.

"I haven't done anything," La Razon quoted Nelida. "The only thing I did was to be beside that man (Peron)."

1,000 See Bomber Crash, Killing Pilot

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 2 (AP)—A twin-jet B57 bomber doing demonstration passes over a crowd of more than 1,000 spectators crashed into a reservoir today and broke into pieces, killing the pilot.

He was identified as John Birt, 28, a technical representative for the Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore aircraft builders, who was demonstrating the plane for the crowd. He was the only one aboard.

Algerian Case Protest Goes Step Further

Decision To Stay On Security Council Safeguards Rights

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—The French government went one step further tonight in protest over the Algerian case by calling out its permanent delegation from the U. N. But France did what many delegates expected by keeping its Security Council seat.

The order to the permanent delegation spelled French withdrawal until a new decision is made from a dozen other U. N. councils and commissions.

France Keeps Veto Right

But France—one of the founders of the U. N. 10 years ago and listed with the United States, Britain, Russia and Nationalist China as a permanent member of the Security Council—will keep veto rights and a place in one of the principal organs of the United Nations by the decision to stay on the Security Council.

Yesterday the French ordered the protest withdrawal of its delegation sent here especially for the U. N. Assembly and its seven committees. Tonight the French Cabinet made it clear in Paris that the continuing protest against Assembly action in voting 28-27 for a debate on Algeria now includes hauling out the permanent delegation, too.

Members of the French delegation here said the decision on specific action would have to be spelled out in instructions they were awaiting from Paris.

Delegates Fly Home

The special Assembly delegation headed by French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay numbered 18. Nine, including Pinay and Herve Alphand who is also head of the permanent delegation and Security Council president for October, flew back to Paris last night.

Yvon Delbos, a former Premier of France, flew back tonight without comment. Others plan to leave tomorrow.

The permanent delegation numbered 14. It was estimated here that five or six Frenchmen would remain to carry out Security Council functions, including work on the subsidiary disarmament commission and the military staff committee.

Aerial Stuntman Plunges To Death

WESTBURY, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—An aerial stuntman plunged to death before 3,000 horrified spectators last night when a 123-foot high steel pole broke just as he completed his performance.

Michael Telesco, 38, Trenton, N. J., had climbed down two rungs from the small platform atop the pole following a series of balancing stunts, when a stay wire apparently gave way. The top 20 feet of the pole broke off, hurling Telesco to the ground.

Storm Is Believed Remnants Of 'Janet'

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2 (AP)—A brewing tropical storm, possibly generated from remnants of Hurricane Janet, was moving slowly northwestward today in the Pacific off the coast of Mexico, the Weather Bureau reported.

Robert Weaver, transoceanic forecaster for the bureau, said storm warnings issued yesterday have diverted shipping from the area, and thus information was scant.

Newspaper Truths

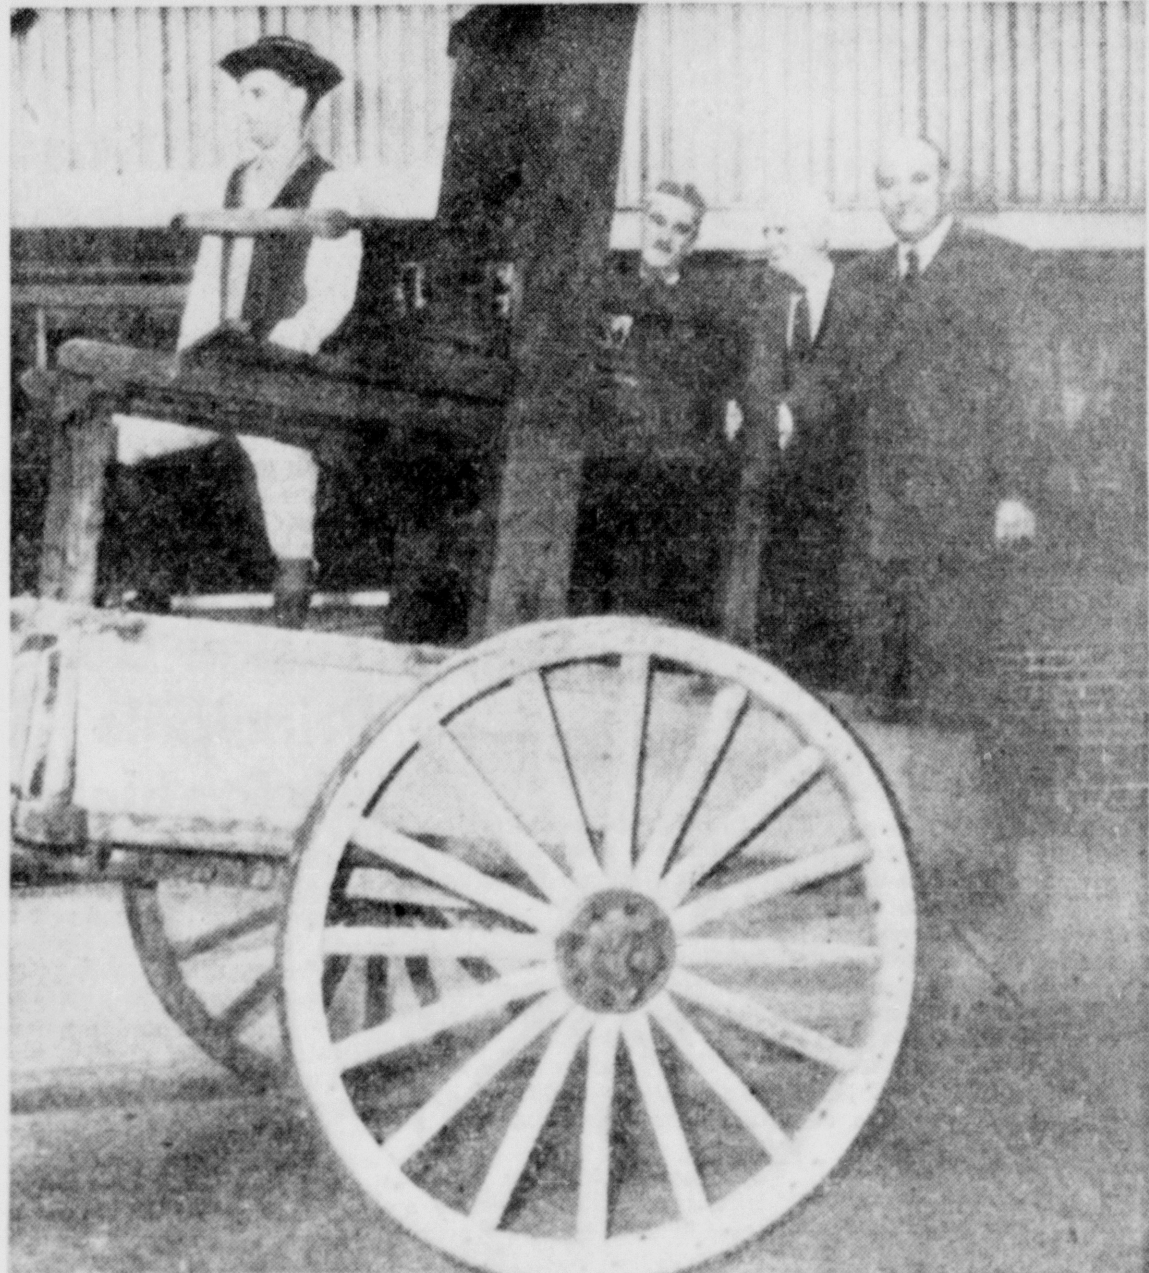

(Editor's note: This is national "Newspaper Week"—Oct. 1-8—and here a famed columnist and reporter illustrates the theme of this year's observance: "Your newspaper—fight for your right to know.")

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (INS)—This is Newspaper Week and as good a time as any to dust off a few truths about our business.

The newspaper you are reading is your friend. It has fought your battles and those of your forebears from the day it was born. You may not know one person employed by it. You may actively disagree with some of its editorial policies. You may abhor some of its writers.

But it engages your friend. It is engaged in a daily fight for your right to know what's happening in the world in which you live. In its news columns and its features it brings you a daily report on the world, the nation, the

Nixon Reports Smooth Sailing In Ike's Absence

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today that government affairs have gone smoothly and without any internal disputes or jealousies in the absence of President Eisenhower.

In a curbside interview in front of his home after returning from church, Nixon gave newsmen a report on the way he said things have been going since Eisenhower was stricken with a heart attack a week ago yesterday.

"I can say without qualification," he said, "that every official of the government with whom I have been in contact has had only one goal in mind, and that is to see the government run in a way just as close as possible to the way we think the President would have wanted it run under such circumstances."

Midway through the interview Nixon was called into the phone to take a long distance telephone call from Sherman Adams, who is running the summer White House in Denver as Eisenhower's chief assistant.

Emerging, Nixon said Adams had given him "his observations of the President's condition."

Soviet Union Backs Egypt's Arms Stand

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Soviet Union takes the view that Egypt has the right to buy arms wherever she chooses and has so informed the Egyptian government as well as the governments of Czechoslovakia, Britain and the United States, Moscow radio said last night.

The Moscow broadcast, beamed to newspapers abroad, laid down the official Soviet stand on Egypt's decision to buy arms behind the Iron Curtain.

Seven Lose Lives In Bus-Car Crash

EUDORA, Ark., Oct. 2 (AP)—A chartered bus carrying a football team and a car collided head-on near here this morning, killing all seven occupants of the car.

Seven persons in the bus were injured, two seriously. The bus was returning a Philander Smith College football team to Little Rock, Ark., after a game yesterday with Dillard University at New Orleans.

W. H. Mathis, police chief of this southern Arkansas town, said the accident occurred about 6:30 a.m. when the automobile swerved into the path of the bus on a sweeping curve of U. S. Highway 65 just north of Eudora.

Meeting On Job Rights Set Oct. 25

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Vice President Nixon announced today that the National Equal Economic Opportunity Conference scheduled for Oct. 25 will proceed as planned, despite President Eisenhower's illness.

The conference, to be held in Washington, is designed to emphasize the administration's policy of persuasion against job discrimination regardless of race, creed, color or national origin.

Nixon told reporters that all 66 of the nation's industrial and labor union leaders invited to the conference had expressed a desire to hold the meeting even though the President will be absent.

Nixon said a presidential dinner at the White House, previously on the program, will be replaced by a dinner in a Washington hotel with members of the Cabinet invited.

Nixon will preside at the conference as chairman of the President's committee on government contracts which is sponsoring the meeting.

Shoeshine Boy, 12, Killed By Sex Fiend

BOSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—The beaten, stabbed body of a 12-year-old Cambridge shoeshine boy—victim of a sex fiend—was found today in an alley in the theatrical district.

Police said his clothing had been partially stripped and his green shoeshine box, brushes and rags were strewn near his crumpled body.

The boy was identified as William McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McGrath. His father, 44, is a shipping clerk, and his mother, 33, a waitress.

President Urges Nation Back Charity Drives

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower, in a filmed and recorded broadcast, tonight urged citizens across the nation to support the united charity drives in their communities this fall.

The President said these drives, in which various volunteer agencies join for one united charity appeal, "constitute the biggest single voluntary cause in our nation."

Hopes Brighter For President's Full Recovery

DENVER, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower's physicians reported tonight he "is a little tired this evening and did not feel as well as usual." But they said, "otherwise his condition is good."

DENVER, Oct. 2 (AP)—Relaxed and cheerful, President Eisenhower continued today his slow but steady advance toward recovery from a heart attack.

The 64-year-old President, his doctors said, entered the ninth day along the come-back road after a "very good night."

So far, not a single discouraging word has come from the physicians keeping the vigil at Eisenhower's eighth floor suite in Fitzsimons Army Hospital. The daily bulletins all indicate that the chief executive's case is following the pattern of those in which recovery eventually is complete.

As a result, anxiety is diminishing and hope is mounting around the Denver White House. Yet, always in the background, is the specter of complications which still could set in—particularly in this second still dangerous week.

Even so, the President's condition is such that his assistants are looking ahead and planning on a recuperation which will allow Eisenhower gradually to assume more and more of the normal, routine duties of his office. This week may see the signing of more official papers. Later on, there may be brief, bedside conferences.

A better idea of what lies ahead probably will develop after Dr. Paul Dudley White, the internationally recognized Boston heart specialist, returns to Denver at the end of the week.

Young Man, Bobbies Play Grim Game Above Big Ben

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—A dark haired young man played a breathless game of hide and seek with police today on the spidery scaffolding of Big Ben tower 320 feet above Parliament Square.

Several thousands looked on in fascination and horror at the spectacle that took place above the shining face and long black hands of the clock whose chimes are known around the world.

The melodrama began shortly before noon when a policeman in the cobblestone yard of Westminster Palace saw the man start his long climb up the scaffolding. The tower, which stood up to German bombing during the war, is being repaired and cleaned and workmen have sheathed it with steel scaffolding from ground to spire.

The bobby sounded an alarm and more than a dozen constables and a few firemen hurried to the base of the tower, which looms above the House of Commons.

One group of policemen dashed to the electric elevator which workmen use. They couldn't start it. Other policemen sped up the stairway, with its 280 steps, inside the tower.

The policemen who'd gone up the inside of the tower pushed open a door and crawled out on a rickety plank platform. The climber was about 50 feet above them.

The constables and firemen roped several short ladders together and went after him. Other pursuers swarmed onto the scaffolding, and one of them grabbed the man around the ankle.

He kicked once and then gave up. Police took him to a hospital for observation and refused to give his name.

Will Boycott All Activities Of Assembly

Cabinet Decision Leaves Door Wide Open For Return

PARIS, Oct. 2 (AP)—France decided tonight to withdraw from all direct United Nations activity except the Security Council and the Disarmament Commission.

The cabinet announced the permanent delegation to the U. N. is being pulled out because of the U. N. General Assembly's 28-27 vote in New York Friday, in defiance of French wishes, to take up the issue of Algerian home rule.

A communique announcing this decision left the door wide open for France's return and avoided mention of withdrawal or resignation from the U. N. as a whole.

The communique omitted mention of the Security Council and the Disarmament Commission, but unofficial sources said the French will continue to participate in their functions.

Alphand To Head Staff

Presumably Herve Alphand will head up a skeleton staff and keep the seat in the 11-nation Security Council where France ranks as a permanent big world power and holds veto rights along with the United States, Britain, Russia and China.

The council's president for October, Alphand also headed up France's permanent delegation to the U. N.

The Disarmament Commission and its big power subcommittee, whose work takes on added importance in view of the pending Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference in Geneva, are subsidiaries of the Security Council.

Full Dress Session

The cabinet acted at a full dress session under the chairmanship of President Rene Coty in the Elysee Palace.

Points mentioned for French withdrawal:

1. Activities of the General Assembly.
2. Delegation to the assembly, including the permanent delegation.
3. Reports to the U. N. Secretariat on affairs in French territories which are members of the French Union.

There were broad hints, too, that Premier Edgar Faure and Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will not make a scheduled trip this month to Russia, which lined up against France on the Algerian issue and cast the vote that put the issue on the agenda.

Brazil Will Choose New President Today

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 2 (AP)—Brazilians will choose tomorrow a new president whose major task will be a campaign to bring the nation out of its dizzy inflation spiral.

Four candidates seek election for a five-year term starting next Jan. 31. The winner will have a number of tough problems on his hands, in addition to the deep unrest inflation is causing as living costs continue to soar.

Another overall task will be to expand the nation's food and industrial output to meet the needs of a growing population—now 55 million. Another problem all the candidates have promised to tackle is that of bolstering and expanding the weak transport system. Many inland areas are not linked except by air. Thus production is held up because there is no way to get goods distributed adequately.

94-Year-Old Retired Carpenter Returns To Tucker County To Visit Old Friends

By HELEN COLLETT News Correspondent

PARSONS — Simpson Hart, 94, native of Tucker County returned this week to visit with the few old timers remaining in Hambleton, Parsons and Holly Meadows, he once knew.

Hart, at 94 looks the age of 75 and has a remarkable memory recalling many events of 50 years ago that others had forgotten. His age being of no concern to him does not stop his activities such as riding air planes and traveling across country. He made his first plane trip from California to Tampa, Fla., last November, making the trip in ten hours and recalled that when he went to California the first time it took seven days by train. He flew from Tampa, Fla., to Elkins last week and will return by plane.

Hart, a carpenter for his entire life time, until he retired only a few years ago is a direct descendant of John Hart, signer of the Declaration of Independence and was born at Kerens on January 31, 1862. He grew up in Tucker County and worked in Hambleton and Parsons until 1890 when he first went to California to join his father. His mother, the former Anzina Wilmoth, died when Hart was still a young boy and is buried in the old Bethel Church cemetery at Holly Meadows. His father, David S. Hart then went to California in 1888 and spent the remainder of his lifetime in that state.

Hart returned to Tucker County in 1902 after attending the World's Fair and remained here until 1907, when he went back to California to remain until last November. He is now residing in the Old Carpenters' Home in Tampa.

Hart was twice married, both wives now deceased. His first wife was the former Emma Louis Junkins of Kitzmiller, Md. He had one brother and two sisters, all of whom are now deceased. His brother was the late Wayne Hart of Hambleton, one sister, Carrie Hart died in Hambleton at the age of 14, and the other sister Lenora, who married J. D. Griffith in Hambleton died in 1940.

He is now visiting with several nieces and nephews in this county and the bordering counties, making his headquarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith in Hambleton.

He said that most of his old cronies are gone, but is visiting with W. F. Lipscomb, 92, and Wayne K. Pitt, attorney of Parsons, both of whom were his friends, more than 50 years ago. He is also visiting other old timers and when asked why he waited so long to return, he said that he had never had a strong urge to return until his nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Smith visited him in Florida, this spring.

When asked what he attributed his long life to, he said he just didn't worry and had never smoked until last year when he started smoking a pipe—and had never believed in drinking liquor. His agility makes one doubt his long life, but he is very proud of his long life.

Blood will be collected from volunteers on that day from 1 to 6 p. m. Miss Todd added that there is a steady and increasing need for blood at the three hospitals. She also stated that one of the greatest problems is that persons making appointments fail to cancel when they find it impossible to donate blood. Persons with appointments should make every effort to keep them.

Miss Todd noted that at the last visit of the bloodmobile unit in June only 102 of the scheduled 156 persons kept their appointments. Walk-ins are welcome at any time during the day.

Tucker Co. Principals Air Problems

PARSONS — The Tucker County Principal's Association held their first meeting of the school year at Main Street Restaurant, Wednesday evening with Fred Hansford, president of the group presiding.

The group discussed the usual school problem of allowing students to take advantage of the deer season from November 28 until December 3, and made a recommendation to the Tucker County Board of Education that students be excused on the first two days of the season upon presenting a written excuse signed by their parents.

The group also discussed the current hot lunch program in the schools since the report forms sent out by the State Board of Education are changed for this year. Superintendent of schools, Stelman W. Harper announced that the Board of Education had voted to dismiss the schools in the county on October 27 and 28, so teachers can attend a regional meeting of the West Virginia Educational Association in Clarksburg, with the days to be made up this year.

Hampshire To Ballot On School Bonds

ROMNEY — Hampshire County citizens will go to the polls October 14 to vote on a proposed $500,000 school bond issue, designed to underwrite the expansion of present school building facilities within the county.

Due to increased enrollments and to the fact that many of the buildings are not suitable for present day education standards, 737 citizens of the county signed petitions asking for improvements in the county school facilities.

Six committees consisting of 60 citizens representing the Parent Teacher Associations of the county studied the needs of the county schools and reported their findings to the county Board of Education. Plans call for additions to Augusta, Mill Creek, Bethel, Rio, Slanesville and Springfield elementary schools.

A new gymnasium-auditorium at Capon Bridge High School, a new elementary school at Greenspring, new consolidated school in Jersey Mountain area and a new gymnasium-auditorium and new building at Romney High School are also in the plans.

One hundred forty election officials have volunteered to work the polls without pay for the balloting on October 14.

Here's the Powers girls' way to give yourself a salt rub, for live, glowing skin.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Devotees of the after-bath salt rub believe they have the liveliest, healthiest skins anyone could have. And it seems that everyone who tries it becomes a devotee.

Salt properly used not only brings a fresh glow to the skin, but has a beneficial effect on blemishes and rough spots. The Powers Girls make one salt rub a week part of their beauty routine, and they proceed according to directions:

Place on the floor beside the bathtub a large bath mat or towel, a saucer of salt, a bath brush and a bottle of body lotion. Take a long warm bath. When your skin is pink, remove yourself, dripping wet, to the mat. Drain the tub and refill it with tepid water.

Work a rich soap lather into the body brush, dip it into the salt and gently rub the mixture into your skin until every inch below the chin is covered. Resoap and dip into the salt again as necessary. Use definite pressure, but don't scrub. Pay special attention to elbows, wrists, heels, and shoulders.

Return to the tub for a thorough rinsing, then dry yourself with a towel that's slightly rough, rubbing briskly. The body lotion comes next and should be allowed to dry on the skin. A final rubdown with a soft towel is the finale.

It's a wonderful feeling right then and one so many girls say creates an extra sense of well-being for days afterward. But don't grow so enthusiastic that you repeat the salt rub too often. Once a week is often enough, and when your skin is tender from sunburn or any other cause, the salt rub must be omitted.

Local Man Collects

W. S. and bears the name of G. Gollot as the maker.

Another interesting piece is a double-barreled flintlock shotgun, ordered more than 100 years ago from Nottingham, England by a man named Conners. VanFleet said it later was acquired by Thomas Wiley, founder of Wiley Ford, W. Va.

W. M. Sheetz, Three Churches, W. Va. gunsmith, was the maker of another Kentucky home rifle in his possession.

Loading Was Task

VanFleet has been a constable here since 1948, except for one year when he ran for sheriff.

He and his wife, Mrs. Gertrude VanFleet, celebrated their 43d wedding anniversary here last month. They have one daughter, Mrs. Freda VanFleet Foley, of Green Spring, W. Va.

Loading the Kentucky rifles, which had barrels ranging from 36 to 48 inches long, was quite a task.

But a skilled user could measure and empty into the muzzle a charge of powder, insert the ball which had been placed in a buckskin or cloth patch, seat them with a ramrod, replace the ramrod, sprinkle a few grains of powder on the pan of the flintlock and fire all in about 30 seconds.

Garbage Work Awarded Beck

The Mayor and Council took up a number of matters, including the awarding of a contract to haul the city's garbage, at a special meeting Saturday in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

C. L. Beck of Bedford Road was awarded the contract to haul the city's garbage, at a special meeting Saturday in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Beck was the lowest bidder with a $66,000 figure. Second was Emmett A. Dougherty with $66,445; third, the present holder of the contract, John Riley and Son, $69,240.

and Harry E. Davis, $72,531.

All of the bidders have held the city garbage hauling contract at one time or another.

It is understood that Beck will purchase six of Riley's trucks and that Riley will supervise the hauling of garbage until October 31.

However, that agreement was made between Beck and Riley at a meeting Friday night and the city as of Saturday is dealing with Beck.

The contract awarding came after all bids were rejected in April. Riley's contract was extended to September 30 until a taxpayer's suit was settled in Allegany County Circuit Court over the first bids, and new bids sought.

William J. Aumiller, exalted ruler, said the newspaper week observance this week leads off the year's program of lodge activities. The slogan is "Your Newspaper Fights for Your Right to Know."

Aumiller added that a scroll will be presented to the Times-News at Wednesday's affair. The lodge also passed a resolution commending the papers.

Farm Price Supports Accorded Imitation

Flattery of imitation has been accorded farm price support policies in the United States, despite the fact that they remain politically controversial in this country. Not only is the program costly in the U. S., with surpluses to the value of $8 billion piled up in addition to administrative and other expenses, but imitations elsewhere are threatening fiscal solvency.

Agricultural price supports in France have cost as much as the war in Indochina and are major factors in budget deficits. Italy has gone in for wheat price supports and is now confronted by demands from rice growers and dairy farmers. Turkey, supporting wheat and cotton, faces bankruptcy. India bolsters wheat and Iraq and Iran dates. The British have been putting props under farmers for a long time.

Keeping farmers satisfied is a worldwide problem and, as usual, the burden is on the U. S. to solve it. If this country can return to a workable system without bounties, taxpayers will benefit on two fronts. They will be relieved of the costs of domestic supports and of foreign supports as well.

Can anyone doubt that the U. S. Treasury, having rescued the collapsing economies of free countries in the past, will again be shoved into the breach if farm price supports in other lands become a ruinous strain and the choice is between putting up additional billions and letting the free countries go to the Communists?

These Days

The Role Of Nixon

Richard Nixon was nominated as vice president because of his salutary work as a member of the House of Representatives where he served on the House Committee on Un-American Activities. He built a national reputation by his persistent investigation into the affairs of Alger Hiss until he got Whitaker Chambers to unearthing the "pumpkin papers." Without Nixon's persistence it is possible that Hiss might today be an important figure in American life with a mighty voice in our foreign policy.

As vice president, Nixon has been able to exhibit a few talents because a vice president must not compete with the President for public recognition. Theodore Roosevelt and Henry Wallace sometimes forgot the etiquette of subordination and struggled against vice presidential obscurity, but Richard Nixon served diligently on the Eisenhower team, and was rewarded by inclusion in the cabinet and the National Security Council over both of which he occasionally presided. President Eisenhower also employed him in ceremonial visits to foreign countries where the vice president did exceptionally well as a public relations emissary. He has been more active than most vice presidents in the administration of the country.

Politically, Vice President Nixon could do very little to enhance his fortunes without violating his relations with the President. He played an exceptionally active role in the 1954 Congressional campaign, speaking over the country and antagonizing the Democrats, particularly the ADA elements in that party. These are now his mortal enemies. For some reason of personality, when Nixon makes an enemy, it becomes personal rather than political. He is reputed to be disliked by such political figures as Harold Stassen, Milton Eisenhower and Nelson Rockefeller which, if correct, makes Nixon more palatable to most Republicans.

No one can now tell how long Eisenhower will be disabled. It may even be that he will not return to office in this term. It is almost certain that he will not run in 1956 despite all the wailings on the part of Len Hall, the Republican national chairman, who will not have anything to say about it anyhow. The decision will be made by the President and probably was made some time ago when it was discovered that the President was having difficulties with his blood pressure as well as his temper. He is reputed to have decided to train Nixon to take over, which is laudable in an army officer but does not affect the vice president's constitutional position.

Nixon may, during the next 15 months, preside at meetings of the National Security Council or the cabinet. He may receive foreign ambassadors or other visitors, but he may not sign a treaty or make recommendations to Congress or sign commissions in the armed forces. He remains vice president until he takes the oath as president and Eisenhower cannot hold the Presidency while delegating its responsibilities to anyone.

This situation places the vice president in a very difficult position. Out of loyalty to Eisenhower, he carries on without authority. The men through whom he must work are not his men; they are the Eisenhower team. Nixon cannot take a position of his own, but he may not be able to ascertain, for a prolonged period, what Eisenhower's wishes are in many areas of public activity. He can, of course, turn to the President's cabinet, to Sherman Adams, or John J. McCloy, or Milton Eisenhower for guidance as to the President's wishes, but these are not always in agreement and how could he know what to follow? He might even in time take a position of his own, but this would lead to an inner conflict in the Eisenhower group.

The founding fathers apparently did not foresee such an eventuality as a president being sick without being disabled. They did not envisage such a situation as Woodrow Wilson's illness produced, or for that matter, Franklin D. Roosevelt's silent sickness to which many attest now who were secret when it was important. The founding fathers established a standard by which would be ready to become President if the President died or became disabled. But they were skimpy in their description of disabling possibilities.

At any rate, Nixon will have a long period of functioning as president in some degree because there is no one else to function with any degree of legitimacy, but without responsibility or authority. It is a startling situation for a great nation.

"Can I Ever Live This Down?"

New Soviet Policy Has Great Dangers For West

By Stewart Alsop

(This is the first of a short series of articles summing up Mr. Alsop's conclusions from his recent tour of the Soviet Union and Europe.)

First, there is one sentence which describes the basic underlying assumption of American policy throughout the years of the cold war. It is this:

"The United States has it in its power to increase enormously the strains under which Soviet policy must operate . . . and in this way to promote tendencies which must eventually find their outlet in either the break-up or the gradual mellowing of Soviet power."

The sentence comes from the famous "Mr. X" article by former policy planner and Ambassador to Russia George F. Kennan. The article, which first outlined the "policy of containment," was written in 1947. Ever since, with some twistings and turnings, containment of Soviet power has been the policy of the United States.

Is It Working

This seems a good time to ask, therefore, whether the containment policy is actually working—whether the "gradual mellowing of Soviet power" foreseen by Kennan has actually begun to happen. And a good man to ask seems Kennan himself, the author of the containment policy.

This reporter accordingly attended a meeting of the Congress of Cultural Freedom, his last part of call in a three-month tour of the Soviet Union and Western Europe. The Congress brought together 150 or so leading intellectuals and political thinkers of the non-Communist world.

The Congress was worth attending because, although those present disagreed strongly and bitterly about every other matter, they were almost unanimously agreed on two points.

Internally, the experts at Milan agreed, the most striking post-Stalin phenomenon is the downgrading of the power of the secret police. The MVD is now headed by a career man, who reports to the Presidium as a whole rather than to any individual. To emphasize the dominance of the party over the police, the MVD has been publicly stripped of the power to arrest a Communist party member, without the prior approval of the local party committee.

At the same time, there is hard evidence, much discussed at Milan, that the whole labor camp system, which used to be a special empire of the secret police, is being reorganized root and branch. Thousands of prisoners have been amnestied and the living conditions of the others rendered far more tolerable.

Results Are Obvious

The morbid and irrational aspects of the regime were in part the products of a quarter-century of ruthless one-man rule; in part, of the increasingly neurotic fears and suspicions of the aging Stalin. The results of the sweeping away of these aspects of the regime are obvious, both internally and externally.

By playing both ends against the middle he could repeal the law

Once again there's a proposal to pay farmers for taking surplus acreage out of cultivation. But Secretary Benson says he will not plow under any little piggies.

Health, Safety Standards For Sports Proposed

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Physical education is an intricate part of our school system. It offers wholesome recreation, improves strength and endurance, and helps mold character. But there is a tendency to over-emphasize and exploit athletics because our desire to win seems to be part of our American heritage.

To protect the health and safety of the participants, a joint committee of the National Education Association and the American Medical Association has suggested certain standards along this line. Every participant ought to be examined at least once a year. In addition, a physician should be present at all contests where there is a chance that someone will be hurt.

It also was recommended that when an athlete has an accident, he should not be re-admitted to the sport except on the written recommendation of a physician. The committee suggested that coaches be thoroughly versed in sports conditioning and training and first aid. Players also should receive basic instruction in first aid.

Whenever there is reason to believe that the head, neck, or spine is hurt, the player should be placed at rest and given the immediate attention of a physician. Every school should have a written policy concerning the responsibility for injury incurred in athletics and arrangements for obtaining and paying for medical and hospital care of injured players.

The importance of protective equipment was stressed. Competition ought to take place only between teams of comparable ability. The playing season must be of reasonable duration and it is well to avoid pre-season games unless the players are well drilled in fundamentals and had a minimum of two weeks of physical training.

The complete report also includes advice on playfields and the nature of contests. Attention also was directed to the type of physical education suitable for students in various grades. Children in grades 1 to 3 usually engage in informal play and need no specialized supervision.

But in grades 4 to 6, a broad program must be instituted as this group needs instruction in physical education and the opportunity to learn skills in a wide variety of games and other activities. Competition should be confined to contests between teams within an individual school (intramural sports), with an occasional game against a neighboring school.

The grade schooler should not be bothered with organized schedules, leagues, championships, night games, distant traveling, commercial promotion, or newspaper reporting. Young children are not ready for the strain associated with strong competition, as found in high school.

Nixon Supporters Phoned Brownell In Spain About Acting Presidency

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Here is some of the vitally important backstage hyplay which took place immediately after the President was stricken in Denver. Behind it was jockeying for position to take over the reins of government and be in the favored spot for the lightning to strike in '56.

It indicates a probable do-or-die battle between the forces of Tom Dewey and the forces of Dick Nixon—with the old friends of Bob Taft ready to pitch in if necessary.

The jockeying was the same young man who, as a freshman senator, relatively unknown, got himself picked at Chicago in 1952 for No. 2 spot on the Eisenhower ticket.

In Washington on the night of September 24, just after the news came that President Eisenhower was taken to the hospital with a heart attack, Vice President Nixon went to the home of his intimate friend, William Rogers, at 7007 Glenbrook Road in nearby Maryland.

This was in the dark hours when the President was so sick he was blinded in both eyes and when initial reports looked much more pessimistic than later materialized.

4 A. M. Huddle

Rogers is deputy attorney general, and with Herbert Brownell then absent in Europe, Rogers was acting attorney general of the United States. He had also traveled with Nixon all during the 1952 political campaign, helped him prepare the famous television speech which recouped his political fortunes after the $18,000 personal expense fund disclosure.

Rogers began to wake up to the power Nixon would have during the months the President was recuperating if he occupied the White House. He could not only build potent public support, but he could hand out patronage. The job of acting president of the United States would be a powerful start toward getting the nomination in 1956.

Not only did Brownell, Dewey's 1948 campaign manager, who was with Tom in Spain when the President was stricken, say no to Nixon's request for a ruling, but he also told his deputy, Bill Rogers, not to discuss the matter of a ruling with anyone. Furthermore he told Rogers to give this message to other members of the cabinet.

Simultaneously, Sherman Adams, then enjoying a junket in Europe, was rushed back to Washington on the private military plane of Gen. Al Gruenther.

Next day a meeting was held in the office of Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, most potent force in the cabinet today, at which Brownell's position was clinched—namely, that there would be no legal ruling and no necessity of Mr. Nixon's serving as acting president.

The meeting was held in Humphrey's office, not Nixon's. The vice president politely deferred to the secretary of the treasury. There were no arguments and no animosities.

Has Greater Danger

In this sense, there has been a "mellowing of Soviet power," internally and externally. But is a return to reason in the Kremlin really an undiluted blessing for the West? Is it not possible that an intelligent and rational Soviet policy will hold far greater dangers for the West, and especially for the United States, than a morbid and irrational Soviet policy?

The majority of those gathered at Milan believed that the answer to both questions was "Yes. They believed that, under the new circumstances, to paraphrase the sentence quoted above, "The Soviet Union has it in its power to increase enormously the strains under which American policy must operate." Among those who so believed was the author of the famous article on which American policy has so long been based.

(Copyright, 1955, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Below the surface, however, there was and continues to be a strong determination by the friends of the Europe-traveling Mr. Dewey to see that young Mr. Nixon does not chisel out for himself a favored place in the political sun while the President is sick.

The Stop-Dewey Move
The word has gone out to all cabinet officers from Republican National Chairman Len Hall that there is to be no speculation about Republican election plans for 1956. He wants no one talking to the press—and this includes Republican leaders in Congress.

The more conversation there is about who is going to run and who is not going to run, Hall says, the less chance the Republican party has of winning. That was why he issued the most ironic headline of the week: "Republican Plans Unchanged."

Privately, however, the long-distance telephone lines have been jangling between top Republicans all over the country, and a stop-Dewey movement among the old Taftites is already under way.

Already Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio, one of the campaign managers, has promised that the Ohio delegates in 1956 will be lined up for Ohio's favorite son, Sen. John Bricker, in order to block Dewey. Already a move is on by the Senator Jenner forces in Indiana to try to line up the Indiana GOP against Dewey.

Already Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire has talked with Sen. Bill Knowland of California about mutual plans, while in Pennsylvania the Grundy forces think they can outmaneuver Sen. Jim Duff to stop Dewey.

The stop-Dewey movement may of course be premature. But animosity toward him by the Taft wing of the GOP is so great that they want to take no chances. They remember the fact that in Chicago in 1952 it was the brains and political know-how of Tom Dewey that really won like the nomination. They recall how Eisenhower, a babe-in-the-woods regarding political conventions, kept saying: "What do we do next, Tom?"

They also remember the surprise speech Eisenhower made at the New York Heart Association dinner at the Waldorf in the winter of 1953 in which he expressed the view that the most useful days of Tom Dewey were still to come.

Taft leaders have always had a sneaking suspicion that Eisenhower told Dewey he would be a one-term president and promised to throw his own personal weight and charm behind Tom. They are waiting now to see whether that promise, if made, will be kept.

Financial Debts

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass.—If you're an average American, this last year has been an unusually successful one. You've had good employment, have probably "collected" more money than ever before in your life, and you've bought a lot of things, including several of the more costly items purchased on the installment plan. For your own safety, do you owe too many people too much?

Bad Debt Boom Cause

There is a boom of a new sort which has been shaping up in recent months—a bad debt boom. Collection agencies are having the most business they have had in many months, with increases in their business of from 30 per cent to 100 per cent. This means, of course, that a great many people are not paying their bills. As a matter of fact, the American Collectors Association estimates that about 10 million families, or one in every five, are over their heads in debt. Do you realize that Americans today owe more than $12.5 billions on car-installment loans, that mortgage debts are close to the $125 billion mark? And these are but two items people purchase on time while working shorter hours.

Why are people so deeply in debt in such good times? The collection agency will tell you that the credit delinquent is not usually unemployed. The difficulty is that he is increasing his debt while working fewer hours. He may be earning $4,000 per year, but due to shorter hours prices have gone up and he is spending at the rate of $5,000. He buys $300 items on $5-down bill. He doesn't want to miss a good thing. So, before he knows it he may be overladen with monthly installment payments.

Study Economics

Of course, the more you buy, up to your ability to pay, the better business is. But watch out, periodically I make a Babsonpoll of business conditions. I ask people like you what they think about different things. My latest poll reveals that 69 per cent of those polled express definite confidence in the future of business. Only two per cent feel that general business prospects are poor. Now when people have confidence in the future, they spend, which should be to the good if they will match it by work.

I have found that when all the world begins rushing in one direction, it is time to start looking the other way. Ever since World War II, while business has been booming, there has been raised almost constantly one skeptical question, "How long will boom times last?" Every dip in business has been viewed as the possible start of a new depression. Since the last dip in 1953-1954, a kind of "optimism unlimited" has set in. There seems to be a belief that we never can build too many houses or automobiles. Perhaps such a time is many years ahead, but for the good of your family and your community you should avoid getting into too much debt while working shorter hours.

No Immediate Danger

Our economy, both business and industry, has expanded and we have the fullest employment ever. Your cash income is probably all the highest ever. While all this is true, it is not necessarily good in the long run if prices climb correspondingly. Only 15 short years ago your dollar bought you twice as much as it does now. Remember when you paid $800-$1,000 for a new Ford car? One reason for today's conditions is that you have worked shorter hours and borrowed more money. I am not advising against installment purchases; but I do appeal to you to work harder and longer to produce enough to match your increased borrowings.

The trouble is that too few people really care what is happening now. They say that future generations will have to liquidate our present government debt. This is true regarding the big federal debt, but it has nothing to do with your personal debts. You may pay these up yourself. Let us remember that with the material prosperity which we inherit there goes a responsibility to our children and our community to leave our country financially strong for them. Let us be fair to those who will follow us, be that they may enjoy the standard of living we now know. Let us not fall short of this obligation, but meet our borrowing with increased production so as to hold up the purchasing power of our dollar.

Dodgers Down Yanks, 5-3; LaSalle Loses To St. Francis

Duke Snider Blasts Two Home Runs

Brooklyn Takes Lead, Clem Labine Stars In Relief

BROOKLYN, Oct. 2 (AP)—Duke Snider slugged two tremendous home runs today and lifted the inspired Brooklyn Dodgers to within one game of their first World Series title on a tinging, 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

Three smart double plays by the Dodger infield helped rookie Roger Craig and workhorse Clem Labine as the Yanks mounted threat upon threat in the fifth game.

36,796 See Game

Sandy Amoros thrilled the happy throng of 36,796, a record series crowd for Ebbets Field, by smashing a two-run homer over the right-field barrier on a 2-1 pitch by loser Bob Grim in the second inning.

Then Snider, the smiling "Duke" from Lynwood, Calif., took over to send the statistics crew thumbing madly through the record books.

The Duke led off the third with a long drive over the right-field fence for a 3-0 lead. After the Yanks got one run back in the fifth, Snider again ripped into a Grim pitch and sent it sailing into Bedford Avenue over the scoreboard in right field.

Snider's clouts gave him four for the series, tying a record held by Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig and himself, and boosted his career total to nine series homers, tops in National League history.

Labine, the crew-cut kid from Woonsocket, R. I., who had shut the door on the Yanks yesterday afternoon, marched from the Dodger bullpen for the fourth time in five days when 24-year-old Craig wobbled in the seventh.

Cerv Belts Homer
Bob Cerv had just slammed a pinch-hit homer off the railing in the upper left-field stands and Elston Howard had walked on a full count when Manager Walter Alston called for Labine.

Nobody was out and the Dodger lead of 4-2 hung in danger as Labine warmed up quickly and then faced Irv Noren. He threw a ball, got a called strike over and missed with another ball. Then he made Noren hit into his second double play of the afternoon, a sharp first-to-short-to-first killing engineered by slick-fielding Gil Hodges. Then Labine grabbed Gil McDougald's smash to the box and threw him out to end the inning.

But the Dodgers still weren't out of the woods on this beautiful fall afternoon. Yogi Berra hit a lead-off homer over the right-field screen in the eighth and the tying run was at the plate in the person of Joe Collins who had belted two homers in the opening game.

Collins took Labine to 3-2 and then went down swinging. Eddie Robinson lashed a long single to the right-field corner and Manager Casey Stengel sent in Tommy Carroll, his speedy bonus player, to run for the slow-footed Robinson.

Once again Labine faced a crisis and came through as he had to so many times in late season while the Brooks were nailing down the National League pennant. He made Billy Martin bounce into a clinching double play on a hopper to Jackie Robinson. Then he blew down the side in order in the ninth, all on infield outs.

It was a stirring moment for the Brooks who had lost the first two at Yankee Stadium and fought back to hold a 3-2 edge going into tomorrow's sixth game, back at the stadium where the series will be concluded.

Ford To Hurl Today
Backed to the wall, a strange and unfamiliar location for the Yanks who haven't lost a series since 1942, Stengel picked left-handed Whitey Ford, first game winner, to pitch tomorrow's "must" game.

Alston, who handled his pitchers with a touch of genius in the last three games, was undecided between Karl Spooner, the rookie left-hander who showed brilliant stuff on relief in the second game, or Don Newcombe, the jumbo sized right-hander who won 20 in the regular season but lost the series opener.

In the excitement about Labine's strong finish and the homers by Snider and Amoros, it was easy to overlook the stout-hearted pitching by Craig, a freshman who was trying to win the Piedmont League playoffs at Newport News, Va., a year ago.

Craig, moved up from Montreal on July 16, survived numerous Yank spurts until Alston finally decided to lift him. The Yanks got to Craig in the fourth for one run on Berra's single off the scoreboard, a walk to Eddie Robinson and Martin's scoring single into left. Just when it seemed he was tottering, the gangling youngster from Durham, N.C., made pinch-hitter Bill Skowron loft a pop foul to Roy Campanella and retired Grim, his pitching rival, on a soft fly to Pee Wee Reese.

The Brooks' third double play in the eighth was their 10th of the series, tying a record held by the 1924 Washington Senators and the 1951 Yankees.

A remnant flock of probably the world's rarest bird ekes out its existence high on the volcanic slopes of Mauna Loa and Mount Hualalai. It is the Hawaiian goose or nene.

DUKE SETS MARK — Duke Snider, whose blazing bat blasted out two Brooklyn Dodgers home runs yesterday as the NL champs defeated the New York Yankees, 5-3 in the fifth game of the World Series, has set a new mark for homers in a series for National League players. He now has nine, including four in the present classic. The record is 15 held by Babe Ruth.

Series Weather

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP)—The weatherman predicted tonight that temperatures would rise to the mid-60s tomorrow during the sixth game of the World Series, to be played in Yankee Stadium.

He added that there would be some clouds but added there was no rain in sight.

Browns Wallop 49ers By 38-3
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Cleveland's boisterous Browns, riding on Otto Graham's pinpoint passing and the line cracking of Ed (Big Mo) Modzelewski and Fred (Curly) Morrison, crushed the inept San Francisco 49ers, 38 to 3, today in a National Football League game.

A crowd of 46,150 Kezar Stadium fans boomed loudly and lustily at the feeble 49er offensive efforts. Y. A. Tittle, veteran quarterback, was the butt of most of the booing. He finally was taken out of the game midway in the final quarter.

Trojans Hand Explorers 2nd Defeat, 19-14

Intercepted Pass, Poor Punt Set Up Two Winners' TDs

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 2—Taking advantage of an intercepted pass and a poor punt by LaSalle to tally twice, St. Francis High defeated the visiting Explorers of Cumberland here in their new school stadium by a 19-14 count.

The Trojans, coached by Nick Cavallero, racked up their second victory in four games while handing the LaSalle eleven its second straight setback.

Loss Ball On Downs
After battling for no score in the first period St. Francis drove deep into LaSalle territory only to lose the ball on downs on the Explorer 11 when Coach Norman Getz' charges stiffened to stop four running plays.

However, on the ensuing play Quarterback Bill Buzzard's pass was intercepted by Frank Radish on the five and the Trojan halfback stepped into the end zone for the first St. Francis touchdown, Matt Mascioli added the point from placement.

Leading 7-0 at halftime, the Trojans came back to drive 69 yards for their second six-pointer which came on a 23-yard pass from Sam Hollis to Bob Smith. Mascioli's kick was wide.

After the following kickoff, LaSalle was forced to punt, but Halfback Eddie Bush's blot slithered off his foot and went out of bounds on the LaSalle 20. St. Francis drove to the four where Fred Jubeo circled his right end for the touchdown. Again Mascioli's kick was no good.

Drive For 86 Yards
As the fourth stanza opened LaSalle took a St. Francis punt and marched 86 yards to its first score with Jimmy Struntz romping over on a 15-yard end run. Buzzard added the point from placement.

Late in the final quarter LaSalle again got possession and drove to the St. Francis 29 where Buzzard faked a pass and ran 29 yards for the second Explorer touchdown to cap a 55-yard march. Buzzard's boot made the final score St. Francis 19, LaSalle 14. The line ups:

Cardinals Cop First Victory

Long Passes, Runs Beat Giants, 28-17

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Two long touchdown passes by quarterback Lamar McHan and a 65-yard run by halfback Dave Mann powered the Chicago Cardinals to a 28-17 victory over the New York Giants today.

The triumph was Chicago's first of the season against one loss while the Giants suffered their second straight defeat.

The Cardinals struck with a powerful aerial attack in the second quarter. McHan found Jim Carr with a 42-yard pass and then tossed a pass to Ollie Matson who ran 35 yards, after making the catch, for the score.

Other Top Teams Are True To Form

Stanford took its place as king of the giant killers today although the college football season is only two weeks old. There may be other upsets during the season, but they'll have to be real shockers to top Stanford's 6-0 victory over Ohio State Saturday.

The Indians were rated one of the lesser lights in the pre-season dope of the Pacific Coast Conference, and their stock dipped even lower last week when they dropped a 10-0 decision to Oregon State, certainly no powerhouse.

Ohio State, on the other hand, was ranked No. 8 in the nation in last week's Associated Press poll, and was rated Michigan's big competition for the Big 10 championship.

Otherwise all the top teams won pretty much as expected, although mighty Michigan got a scare from Michigan State, coming out on the front end of a 14-7 squeaker after a second-string tackle set up the tie-breaking score in the third period by blocking a punt on the State 21.

Ohio State's defeat and Michigan's narrow squeeze probably gave heart to some of the other Big 10 clubs, especially Wisconsin, which smacked Iowa, 37-14, behind Dave Howard's three touchdowns passes.

In another Big 10 game, Purdue edged Minnesota, 7-6, on Len Dawson's conversion, while in non-league contests, Illinois crushed Iowa State, 40-0, Notre Dame blanked Indiana, 19-0, and Tulane shut out Northwestern, 21-0.

Notre Dame continued to look like a team that could go through the entire schedule undefeated—if its first-stringers can hold up. Paul Hornung again sparked the Irish in the best tradition of Notre Dame quarterbacks by running 33 yards for one score and throwing seven yards to sophomore end Dick Prendergast for another.

Maryland, No. 1 in the nation, got past what was advertised as a rough hurdle—Baylor—and the Terps didn't seem to exert any undue effort in grinding out a 20-6 decision. Frank Tamburello handled the bulk of the Terp passing and its defense, as usual, was superb.

Georgia Tech, the No. 3 team in the country and class of the South, rolled past Southern Methodist, 20-7, while Oklahoma chalked up its 21st triumph in a row by slapping down Pitt, 26-14.

Army and Navy probably will emerge battling for the No. 1 spot in the East again. The Cadets rolled past Southern Methodist, 20-7, while Oklahoma chalked up its 21st triumph in a row by slapping down Pitt, 26-14.

UCLA, apparently out to show everyone that its defeat at the hands of Maryland last week was a horrible mistake, took its wrath out on Washington State, 55-0.

Texas Christian made its bid to lake over the Southwest Conference spotlight by whipping Arkansas, 26-0.

Other major results:
East — Yale 27 Brown 20; Princeton 20 Columbia 7; Harvard 60 Massachusetts 6; Colgate 21; Cornell 6; Holy Cross 29 Dartmouth 21; Maine 34 Vermont 0.

South — Duke 21 Tennessee 0; West Virginia 46 Wake Forest 0; North Carolina 25 North Carolina State 18; Auburn 13, Florida 0; Mississippi 33, North Texas State 0; Richmond 21 VMI 0; George Washington 13 Virginia 0; Kentucky 28 Villanova 0.

Midwest — Utah 20 Missouri 14; Miami (Ohio) 13 Xavier (Ohio) 12; Marquette 13 Tulsa 0; Nebraska 16 Kansas State 0.

Southwest — Texas Tech 24 Oklahoma A and M 6; Louisiana State 20 Rice 20 (tie); Texas A and M 21 Houston 3.

Far West — Colorado A and M 20 Denver 19; Montana 27 Brigham Young 13; Colorado 12 Kansas 0; Arizona 47 Idaho 14.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Marie Keller, who entered eternal rest one year ago today, Oct. 2, 1954.

Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one so dearly loved by all.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one so dear.
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye,
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
O God, grant you eternal rest.

Shrine Units Will Honor Potentate

Walter C. Guy Will Make Official Visit

Uniformed units of Ali Ghan Temple will pass in review tonight before Walter C. Guy, Little Rock, Ark., Imperial Potentate of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The ceremony will be held on the lawn of Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club here following a dinner in honor of the new Imperial Potentate, who is making his first official visit here.

Passing in review under the direction of Clarence E. Eyre, commander of the units, will be the Flag Unit of the temple; the Ali Ghan Shrine Band, led by Edgar D. Landefeld and directed by Irvin B. Lewis; the Shrine Patrol, led by Philip W. Ward, captain, and the Shrine Drum Corps, led by William D. Holbrook and directed by John F. Wagner.

Tour Is Planned

Lighting effects for the review have been prepared by the Wrecking Crew of the Shrine, headed by J. Wilbur Powell.

Imperial Potentate Guy and his wife will arrive here about noon for their Western Maryland visit.

After luncheon, he will be taken on a tour of historical landmarks in the Cumberland area.

Mrs. Lura Guy will be entertained at the Shrine Country Club at a 12:30 p. m. luncheon being arranged by a committee headed by Mrs. John Brennaman.

The Imperial Potentate and his wife will be the guests of honor at a dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m. at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Guy Will Speak

Some 250 Nobles of the Shrine and their wives will attend the dinner. Widows of nobles will be special guests.

Howard M. Albaugh, Hagerstown, potentate, will preside and Imperial Potentate Guy will speak.

A dance, from 9:30 p. m. to midnight, will follow, with music by the Art Shafer Orchestra.

Up to 600 are expected to witness the review and take part in the dance.

Nobles are asked to wear the fez, according to Charles U. Wiele, recorder of Ali Ghan Temple.

The next get-together of the Cumberland Sub-District, Methodist Young Adults will be a hobby and fun night at Centre Street Methodist Church this evening at 7:30.

Anyone wishing to display a hobby is asked to have it at the church by 7:30.

An award will be given to the church with the largest attendance at the rally.

The group will take part in contests, movies will be shown, a magician will perform, and a humorous skit will be given by the Young Adults of Trinity Methodist Church. To conclude the program, refreshments will be served.

AAUW Chairmen Plan Meeting

Mrs. Virgil Atkinson has called a meeting of all subject matter chairmen of Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch, American Association of University Women, tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at her home, 16 Uhl Street, Frostburg. The group will plan the year's program.

The general meeting will be held tonight from 7:15 to 8:15 in the lecture room of First Methodist Church, Frostburg, adjourning in time to allow members to attend the music festival at Compton Hall, State Teachers College. Miss Mabel Myers and Miss Gertrude Williams, members of the international relations group, are in charge of arrangements for tonight's meeting.

Is Christianity Worthwhile Today?

By REV. CARL H. CLAPP

A man said during the war, "I feel that I must put my Christianity on the shelf for the duration." He felt that he was involved in contradictions which were hopeless and in these trying times it was expedient to seek his leadership elsewhere than in the church.

If the gospel is true it is always true. If it is required of us that we stand for Christ, we must in all circumstances be loyal to Him. If we have a real Christian spirit, it will express itself in Christian decision and action on every occasion. Whatever the state of the world may be and whatever our lot, our first business and our most profitable employment is to be true to Christ.

Christianity is worthwhile today because of its protest against evil. We know that we are of God, writes John, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. The world lies in wickedness, confused, wounded, suffering and ignorant. Our vaunted civilization is perishing, and it will surely die unless it turns to God for salvation, and it is the part of wisdom to acknowledge it. Selfishness, pride, ambition,

First Downtown Motel Opens

These attractive motel units are located at the Blue-White Parking Lot on North George Street, within half a block of Baltimore Street, and were constructed in his spare time by C. Paul Roeder.

Modern and air-conditioned throughout, the units are in great demand by traveling men and others who find it convenient to park their cars and sleep on the same premises.

Motel In Heart Of City Beats Predicted Trend

A couple of weeks ago the Wall Street Journal and several trade publications devoted some space to a new trend in business development and expansion.

The articles predicted that there will be a movement of motels and tourist homes from outlying and suburban areas into downtown business districts.

It was explained that tourist homes, trailer camps and motels across the country are usually found near the outskirts of thriving communities, or between towns on major highways.

However, the business has gradually been moving closer to cities and towns, and it was predicted by the business forecasters that the next few years would see many communities with first-class motels operating within corporate limits and right in the heart of business areas. Many, it was noted, would come as additions to existing parking lots.

The writers of these articles were right on their toes. Because the anticipated trend, if it is a trend, has already been started.

Last week, Charles Paul Roeder, 813 Ashland Avenue, who owns and operates the Blue-White Tower Parking lot on North George Street, opened five modern motel units at his parking lot.

When Roeder opened his present parking lot, there already was a solid but unattractive old building at the edge of the lot. Casting about for ways to put it to use, he thought of a downtown motel. He checked his idea with salesmen who used his lot, found them enthusiastic, and went to work.

A construction man himself, Roeder started work on the building about the first of the year, soon after the concrete second deck of the adjacent parking lot had been completed. Doing practically all of the remodeling and installation himself to keep his total investment at a minimum, Roeder now owns and operates five modern, attractive motel units.

Each has a private ceramic tile bath, is carpeted wall to wall, has new and modern furniture with a double bed in three of them and two double beds each in the other two.

Windows have vertical venetian blinds, and the interiors are paneled in a natural wood finish. The entire set of motel rooms is equipped with year-round air conditioning.

In the front of the motel is a small room which will be equipped as a motel unit and business office, while just opposite and across the entrance is a sandwich shop and luncheon, now open on a 24-hour basis.

The motel rooms are soundproof, centrally located, and are especially pleasing to traveling men who can now park just outside their rooms and be in the heart of the downtown district at the same time.

One salesman told Roeder, "This is a wonderful idea. I can get an extra hour of rest now, since one stop takes care of me and the car and my sample cases."

So, perhaps a new trend in motel location is about to sweep the nation, according to the experts. But when it does, Paul Roeder can always look back and say, "Here in Cumberland, we were ahead of the trend."

Neighbors heard him gasping and apparently in considerable pain, and summoned police. Ridgeley Police Chief Harry Detrick investigated, saw Zimmerman was violently ill and had him removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Detrick said there was no evidence of foul play or self injury, and the man appeared to be suffering from some sort of internal hemorrhage. He said he was awaiting a report of physicians before any further investigation.

At the hospital, Zimmerman was in "serious" condition.

Ridgeley Railroader Found Ill At Home

John Zimmerman, about 60, a Western Maryland Railway employee, was taken to Memorial Hospital about 6:45 p. m. yesterday, violently ill.

The man, according to police, works away during the week and spends the weekends at his home on Ridgeley Street, Ridgeley, where he lives alone.

Neighbors heard him gasping and apparently in considerable pain, and summoned police. Ridgeley Police Chief Harry Detrick investigated, saw Zimmerman was violently ill and had him removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Detrick said there was no evidence of foul play or self injury, and the man appeared to be suffering from some sort of internal hemorrhage. He said he was awaiting a report of physicians before any further investigation.

At the hospital, Zimmerman was in "serious" condition.

Such abnormal conditions prevailing in the world today present new opportunities for evil to flaunt its enticements and remove many of the restraints by which temptation is resisted. In city after city, in our land lewdness is commercialized in the name of education, and questionable amusements are not only offered but recommended as a suitable diversion for pastime. If we agree that souls are worth saving and character ought to be built, it is of utmost importance that Christians insist on their principles in our day.

For multitudes blasphemy has become good usage. Almost everywhere we hear words that Christians parents teach their children to avoid. The commandment "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord in vain" presumably was not written for a time like this.

Quality Control Group To Hear W. J. Masser

W. J. Masser, manager of quality control engineering for General Electric, will speak at a meeting of the Music and Arts Club of Cumberland. It will be in Compton Hall, State Teachers College, Frostburg, at 8:15.

Mrs. Maggid, representing Maryland, was awarded second place in the Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair contest, sponsored by the national biennial convention of Music Clubs in Miami. A medical secretary, she is soprano soloist with the Baltimore Music Club. She also has performed in recital at Carnegie Hall, New York.

Mrs. Clark, a concert pianist and vocal coach, is a new resident of Cumberland, coming here from Montreal. A graduate of Vienna Conservatory, she taught at the Austro-American Conservatory, Salzburg, Austria and for many years was a vocal coach in Baltimore.

Guides will be members of Miss Dorothy Stone White's drama class.

Shaw told The News last night that in the event he cannot make the trip to Ohio in January, he has arranged with his sister, Mrs. Ann Kerns, Columbus, Ohio, to read his historical paper for him.

Ross Shaw To Speak At University

Ross F. Shaw of Oldtown, a member of the advisory board of the Cresap Society, has accepted an invitation from Dr. C. E. VanSickle of Delaware, Ohio, president of the State University of Ohio, to deliver an address to the student body and faculty in January.

Shaw will talk on the "Life of Col. Thomas Cresap." Shaw said he plans to outline the history of Col. Cresap's settlement in this county and his part in the early history of Western Maryland.

On one of his recent visits here, Dr. VanSickle, who is interested in the history of this area, was presented with a "History of the Cresaps" by Shaw.

Shaw told The News last night that in the event he cannot make the trip to Ohio in January, he has arranged with his sister, Mrs. Ann Kerns, Columbus, Ohio, to read his historical paper for him.

Green Ridge Building Plans Ready

Plans for the construction of a repair shop and utility building at the Green Ridge State Forest Headquarters, which will be built at a cost of approximately $10,000, have been received at the office of William H. Johnson, district forester.

The building was laid out this week and construction work is expected to get under way in the near future. Johnson said that about $10,000 has been appropriated by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks for the construction of the new building.

It will be of concrete block and will cover an area of 85 feet by 44 feet. The one-story building will have an asphalt type roof and will replace the temporary buildings constructed in about 1935 by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The new structure will afford space for a storage room for fire tools, a workshop, small office, supply room, tool room and room for a heating plant.

Grading work was expected to start on Friday, Johnson added.
